EXPERIENCE

Kim Millet joined TOK Commercial's Inland Northwest brokerage team in 2025, following a successful career overseeing one of the largest private commercial real estate portfolios in the Inland Northwest and building strong relationships within the business community while delivering expert guidance in the fast-moving regional market. This unique vantage point allows her to serve everyone from first-time entrepreneurs to the nation's top retailers.

Kim offers clients deep experience drawn from assignments advising and representing owners, landlords, tenants, and investors in their identification of leasing opportunities and sales solutions across all asset classes throughout the Inland Northwest.

Kim brings a human approach to a capital landscape. She delivers an unmatched skill set in sales, leasing, contract negotiation, and process management. Kim's clients value her attention to detail and ability to streamline the deal process.

Kim's provides deep market knowledge of regional growth corridors, zoning and entitlement processes, and local economic drivers. Clients benefit from her detailed market analysis, creative marketing strategies, and transaction negotiations that align with client goals.
